DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

In view of the appeal brief filed on April 22, 2004, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

- (1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,
- (2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-2 and 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kantrowitz et al. (US 6003174).

Regarding claims 1-2 and 4, Kantrowitz teaches a computed tomography apparatus (figure 1) comprising:

- a gantry (20) having a measuring opening (112);

- an x-ray source mounted in said gantry having a focus from which radiation is emitted, at least said focus rotating around said measuring opening for irradiating an examination subject (27) from different directions (column 3 line 35);

- a detector disposed in said opening for obtaining projection datasets corresponding to radiation incident on said detector as said focus rotates around said measuring opening (column 3 line 35);

- a support table having a support plate (26), adapted to receive an examination subject thereon, and a carrier, said support plate (26) being non-displaceably mounted cantilevered to said carrier (although the attachment is rotatably mounted to the operating table, it is set in one position prior to starting a procedure so that the patient is not moved both the scanning and surgical procedures (column 2 line 56-60). Once the position of the extension is set, it would be considered to be "non-displaceably mounted cantilevered to said carrier" as claimed); and

- a mechanism (wheels) for moving said gantry independently of said support table, including movement of said gantry into a use position wherein said support plate extends through said measuring opening (figures 1).

Regarding claim 2, Kantrowitz teaches said carrier comprises a floor stand (figure 1).

Regarding claim 4, Kantrowitz teaches said support table is movable (figure 1).

Regarding claim 5, Kantrowitz teaches that said support table has a longitudinal axis and wherein said gantry has a system axis, and wherein said support table is positionable relative to said gantry so that said longitudinal axis and said system axis, when projected into a horizontal plane, intersect when said gantry is in said use position (figure 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kantrowitz in view of Fujita et al. (US 5848126).

Regarding claims 6-7, Kantrowitz fails to teach a motor drive for moving said gantry along said system axis to allow scanning of a volume of an examination subject adapted to be received on said support plate in said measuring opening nor rails along which said gantry is movable.

Fujita teaches a CT gantry having a motor drive (85) for moving said gantry along said system axis to allow scanning of a volume of an examination subject adapted to be received on said support plate in said measuring opening (figure 25) nor rails (17) along which said gantry is movable (figure 23a).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the gantry of Kantrowitz with the motorized gantry as taught by Fujita, since the motorized gantry of Fujita would provide quick and precise control of gantry positioning than a person due to its heavy construction.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art fails to teach that the carrier comprises a ceiling stand as claimed in dependent claim 3.
